

CT ABDOMEN AND PELVIS WITH IV CONTRAST

CLINICAL INDICATION:

{{clinical_indication}}

TECHNIQUE:

Axial scans were acquired through the abdomen and pelvis following the administration of intravenous contrast material.

FINDINGS:

Liver: Normal in size and attenuation. No focal hepatic lesion.

Gallbladder: Unremarkable.

Pancreas: Unremarkable.

Spleen: Normal in size and attenuation.

Kidneys: Normal in size and position. No hydronephrosis.

Appendix: Normal caliber, no periappendiceal stranding.

Bowel: No obstruction.

IMPRESSION:

- 1. No acute intraabdominal pathology.