

RAMKRISHNA IVF CENTRE

(A UNIT OF TRUE VALUE FERTILITY CARE PVT. LTD.)

HR Policies

HR policies can support trust, fairness and inclusion by outlining the responsibilities of both employer and employee. They can impact employee motivation, organisation reputation and the ability to attract and retain talent, creating mutual benefits for employees and organisations.

Common policies include:

HR policies are formal guidelines that govern employee behaviour, Workplace procedures, and the overall conduct of business.

- 1. Employment: Hiring practices and equal opportunity.
- 2. Compensation, Benefits and Allowance: Salary, bonuses, and Over time, Advance, Loan benefits.
- 3. Workplace Conduct: Behaviour expectations rules.
- 4. Holiday and Leave: Casual leave / Sick leave, and maternity leave, comp-off rules.
- 5. Attendance: Attendance and punctuality expectations.
- 6. Performance Management: Appraisal and promotion criteria.
- 7. Disciplinary and Grievance: Handling grievances and disciplinary action.
- 8. Separation: Resignation and termination procedures.

Employment

Hiring: This hiring process focuses on a company's internal talent. It involves assessing existing talent from different departments, identifying the right people internally, and offering them positions to promote career growth.

Step 1. New Joining 1st day at office.

Step 2. Document Verification & form filling by HR dept.

Induction: Induction is the formal introduction to company work culture and roles.

Orientation: Orientation is a continuous process of helping employees adjust to new work environment.

Compensation, Benefits and Allowance

Compensation refers to the remuneration that an employee receives in return for his/her services to the organization. Compensation includes everything an employee receives in return for his work such as wages, salaries, allowances, bonuses, benefits and services.

Benefits cover indirect pay. This can be ESIC (Employees State insurance Corporation), bonuses, and Over time, Advance, Loan benefits options. All of these things are job offer, that offer

Identical salaries may vary wildly in the benefits category, making one a better Financial proposition than the other.

Monetary/ Financial Benefit

Direct Benefit

- a) Basic pay
- b) Bonus
- c) Increment
- d) Provident Fund
- e) ESIC

Bonus: Full bonus less then <25,000.

Gross bonus flat 25,000 up to maximum salary,

Increment: Yearly 2 times appraisal

Mid yearly in July

Yearly in January.

Organization can withdraw this benefit any time.

Increment: Performance appraisal basis .

Organization can withdraw this benefit any time.

Indirect Benefit

- a) House Rent Allowance
- b) Medical Allowances
- c) Leave Travel Allowances
- d) Special Expenses
- e) Incentive / Washing Expense
- f) Advance/Loan benefits
- g) Local Convenience Expenses

Deduction

- PF – (Basis salary 12%)
- ESI – (Gross salary 0.75%)
- PTAX – Salary slab mention below

Gross Salary	Amount Payable
Up to Rs 10,000	Nil
Rs 10,001 – Rs 15,000	Rs 110
Rs 15,001- Rs 25,000	Rs 130
Rs 25,001 – Rs 40,000	Rs 150
Above Rs 40,001	Rs 200

- Washing Expense (Washing Expense calculated on basic salary)
- Organization can withdraw this benefit any time.
- Local Conveyance Expense
- Camp allowance -@500
- Travel Expense:
 1. Headquarter Allowance (up to 50 km) @350 per Day
 2. Ex-Station Allowance -@350 per Day, & Travel fare - @5 (Five Rupees per Km) lodging & Fooding – 1,100 per day
 3. Maximum monthly expenses -up to 10,000/-

Workplace Conduct

- Respect: Treat others with respect, regardless of their role or position.
- Professionalism: Conduct yourself in a professional manner, even when off duty.
- Productivity: Perform your job to a reasonable standard and maintain good attendance.
- Compliance: Follow company policies and procedures.
- Teamwork: Be a good team work with others to achieve goals.
- Honesty: Be honest and work with integrity.
- Communication: Use language that includes everyone understand easily.

Benefits of behavioural expectations

Behavioural expectations can help employees stay focused and motivated

They can help employees understand what is expected of them

They can help employees avoid discrimination and harassment

Holiday and Leave

Casual leave

A short-term paid leave for personal reasons or emergencies that doesn't require prior approval. Casual leave is usually granted after the probation period ends. The number of casual leave days an employee can take varies by organization.

- Casual leave is not usually rolled over to the next financial year.
(Applied 1st April to valid 31st march.)
- Companies allow employees to take up to 5 days of casual leave in a month.

Sick leave

A period of time off from work for an employee who is unwell or incapacitated due to illness or medical reasons. The number of sick leaves an employee can take differs by company and their policies. Employees can take sick leave without a medical certificate if they take more than two days off.

Sick leave is not usually rolled over to the next year.

(Applied 1st April to valid 31st march.)

Total Casual Leave/ Sick Leave applicable in a financial year is up to 20 days.

Maternity Benefit

The maximum Maternity leave is 12 weeks for Woman

The maximum Paternity leave is 2 weeks for Man

Eligibility

To be eligible for maternity leave, a woman must have worked for an employer for at least 160 days in the 12 months before her expected delivery date.

The leave is available to all employees, including permanent, temporary, and contractual employees.

Benefits

In addition to paid leave, women are also entitled to medical benefits, such as prenatal and postnatal care.

Application process

To apply for maternity leave, a woman should read the employer's policy, provide all required documents, and apply at least two months before the leave is due to start.

Comp-off rule

Due comp-off to be cleared within next 30 days otherwise comp-off laps.

Attendance

Punctuality and attendance are important in the workplace because they uphold productivity. People at work rely on one another to be punctual so they can work together. Here are some of the main reasons being punctual and attending work reliably are important.

0.01 to 4.29 Absent

4:29 to 8:29 Hrs half day. 8:30 Hrs Full day

Performance Management

Setting goals: Establish objectives for employees and teams that align with the organization's mission.

Communicating expectations: Clarify job responsibilities and performance expectations.

Monitoring performance: Regularly check in with employees to see how they are progressing.

Providing feedback: Give specific examples of what is working and what could be improved.

Rewarding performance: Recognize and reward employees for good performance.

A Performance appraisal is a process that helps determine if an employee is eligible for a promotion. An appraisal is a review of an employee's performance, job duties, and work history. The results of an appraisal can help managers decide which employees are ready for a promotion, and what rewards or training they might need.

Performance Improvement Plan (PIP)

- Unauthorized access use without any permission.
- Punctuality to be maintained. Need to take permission if you are taking break during working hours.
- Every team member needs to show respect towards others.
- Performance will be assessed quarterly and if found not satisfactory, he/she will go under performance improvement plan. After one month again performance will be assessed and found not satisfactory will be terminated.

Disciplinary and Grievance

Grievance and disciplinary procedures are frameworks for addressing issues that arise in the workplace. They ensure that employees are treated fairly and equally, and that employers comply with the law.

Handling grievances

Acknowledge: Listen to the grievance and acknowledge it.

Investigate: Look into the complaint impartially.

Meet with all parties: Meet with the employee and any other relevant parties.

Take action: Decide what action to take and document it.

Follow up: Check in with the employee to see if the issue has been resolved.

Handling disciplinary action

Meet with the employee: Conduct a meeting with the employee.

Document: Document the disciplinary action.

Follow up: Check in with the employee to see if the issue has been resolved.

Separation

Resignation procedure

Plan: Decide on your next job and finalize the terms.

Inform your manager: Let your manager know before telling others.

Submit a letter: Give your employer a formal resignation letter.

Prepare for an exit interview: Be ready to answer questions about your departure.

Return company items: Return any company-owned items.

Rules of resignation

Write a formal written notice

Serving the notice period of one month

A clear communication between the employer and the employee

Returning the company property and handover of duties

Exit interview and full and final settlement

Honouring the confidentiality and compliances

Termination procedure

An employer issues letter of termination to inform an employee that their employment is ended in case of theft, Physical abuse

Employee observed work progress, if his/her work not satisfactory then any time management will terminate his/her employment without prior information.
